

Perfect Strangers

Jun Togo

Misunderstanding often takes place when you meet someone for the first time. Then how about in the case of a person who you have never met before? For example, imagine that a perfect stranger has moved into your neighborhood...

You asked your neighbor;

The next day the woman went to visit her new neighbor. She was interested in how strong he looked like.

If you have never met someone, misunderstanding may arise more easily than the case of meeting someone for the first time.

Now let me change the subject to something bigger.

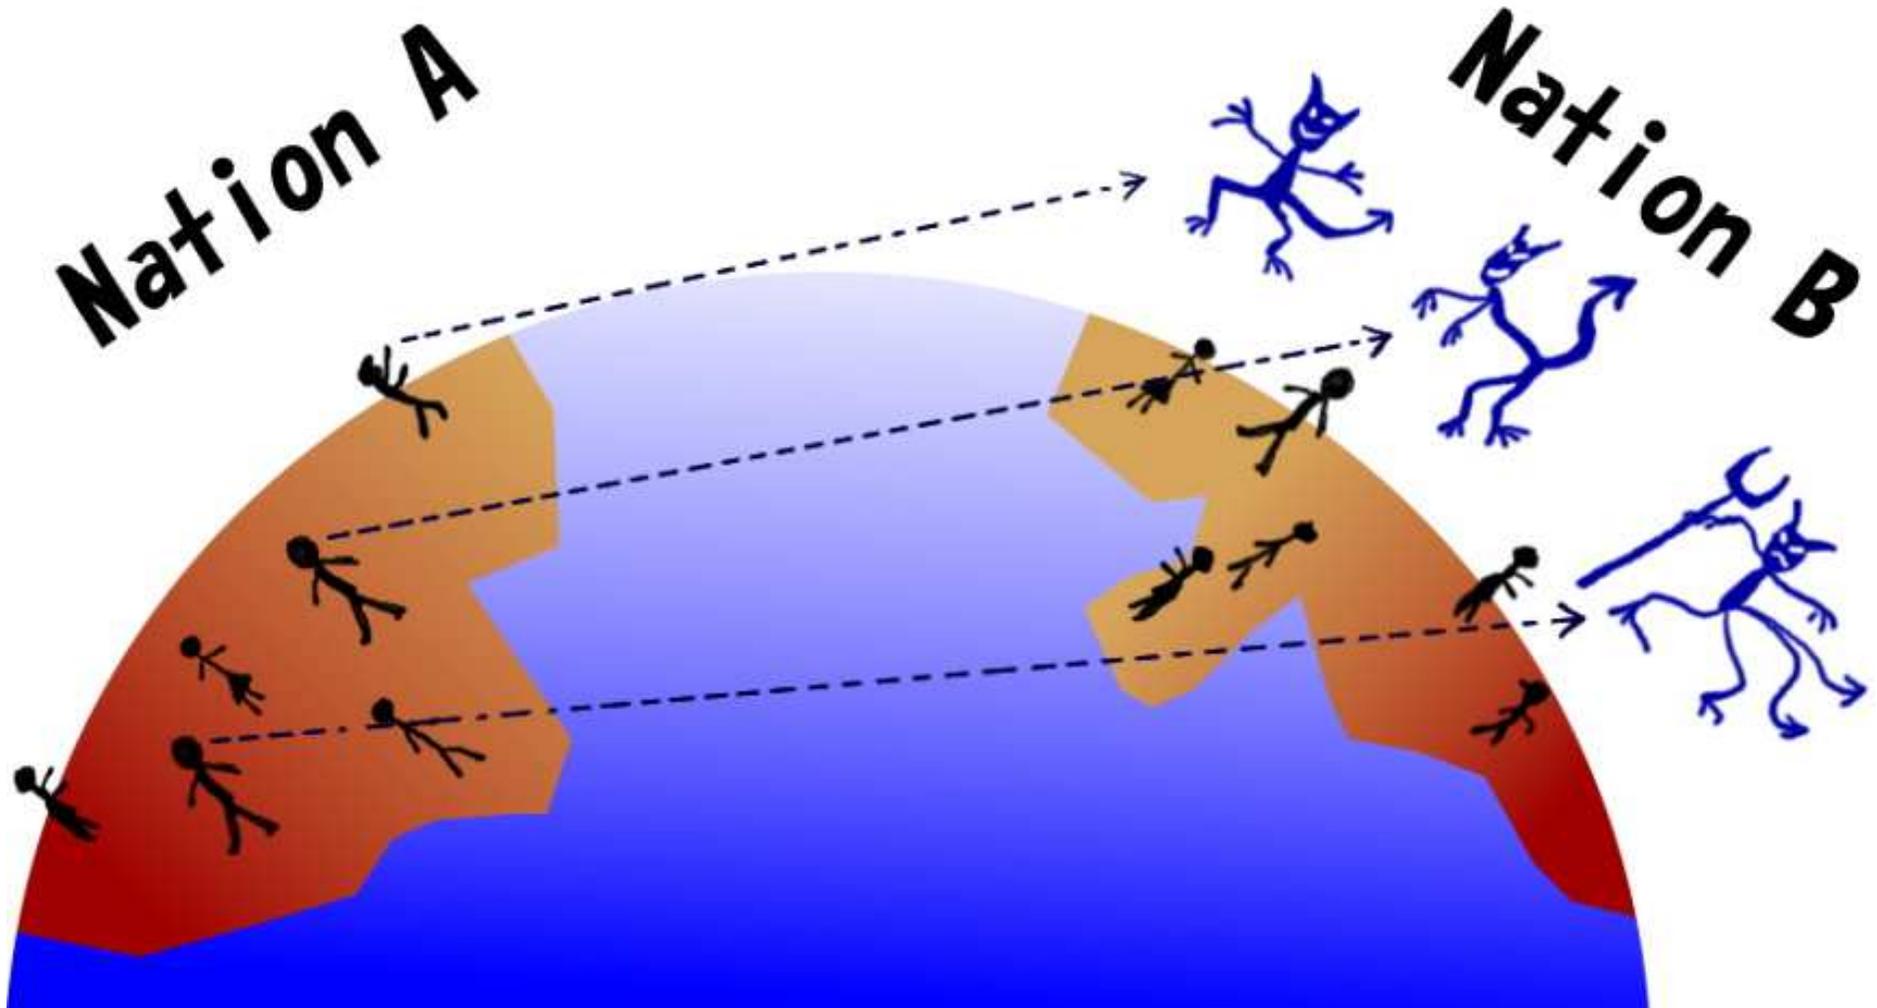

Imagine there are 2 nations of which culture and language are completely different. The 2 countries are located faraway and the most of the citizens have never met each other before.

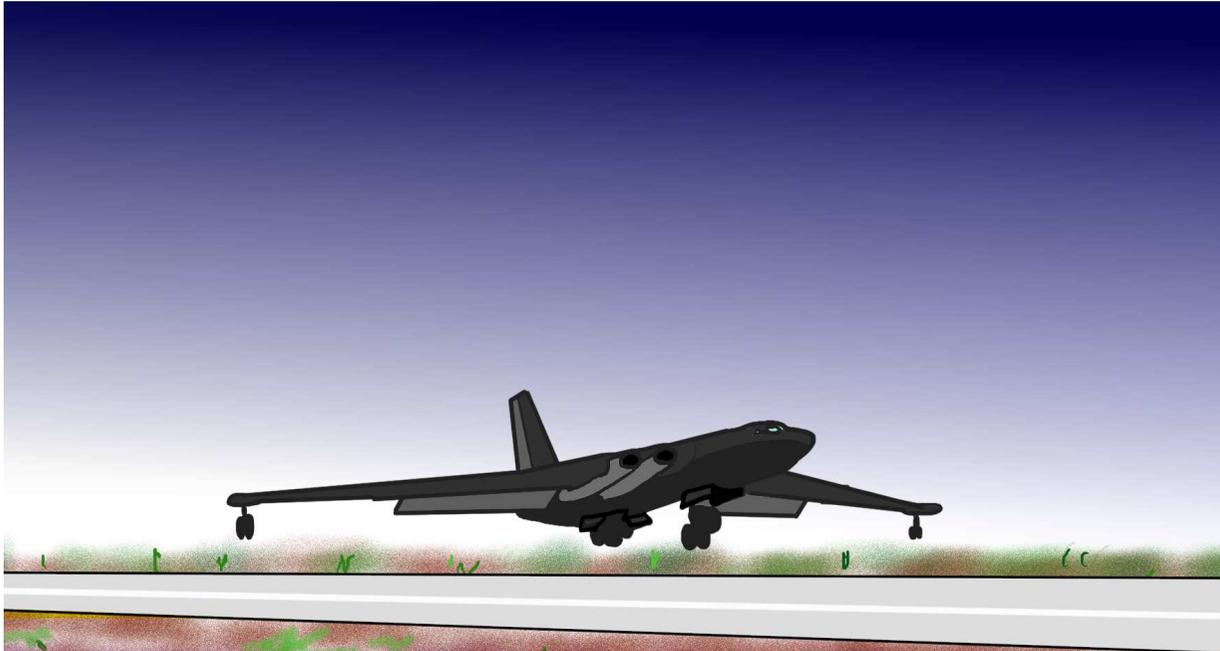

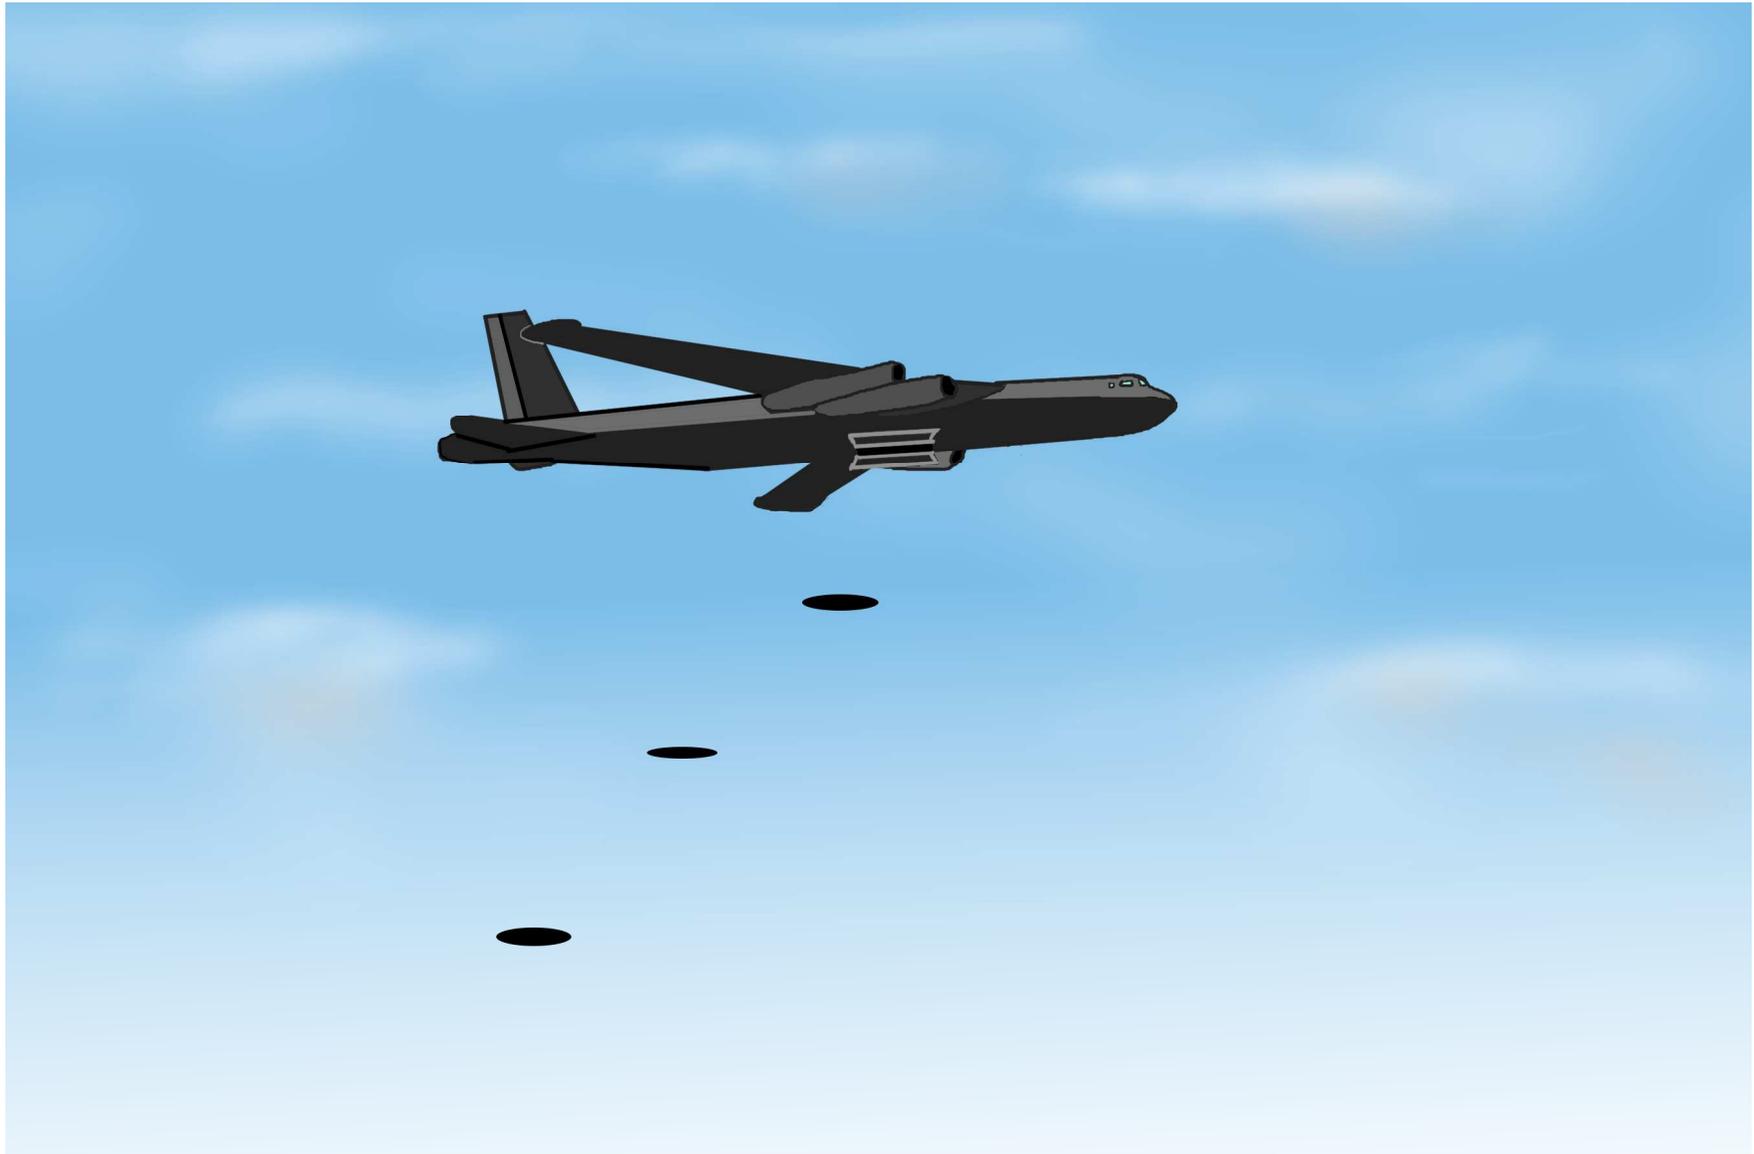

And imagine that whatever the reason is, these kinds of information below about the B nationals are spread among A nationals.

Let's assume that the B nationals are just ordinary people. However, if A and B nationals have never met before, the A nationals may have different views towards B nationals.

We destroyed
the devils!

We destroyed
the devils!

There are surely many people committing an atrocity for strangers, but you don't need to give up a hope on human race.

Afterword - picture book “Perfect strangers”

This picture book is one of “Discrimination” series.

If you empathize with this picture book, we would appreciate it if you could show them to your family and friends.

You can freely make copies of (down load/print/distribute) this picture book, so long as you do not get any monetary gains. Obtaining profit/money from this book is strictly prohibited except under written agreement. You can also download other picture books and messages written by Jun Togo from the web below.

www.peace-picturebook.org

©Jun Togo 2015